Diagram illustrating the proportions of a faceted diamond. The crown is labeled "Medium To Slightly Thick (Faceted)". The proportions shown are:

- Width: 57%
- Crown Angle: 35.5°
- Pavilion Angle: 40.8°
- Height: 62.5%
- Depth: 43%
- Crown Thickness: 15.5%
- Bottom: Pointed

The left diagram shows a circle with an inscribed square. The diagonals of the square are drawn, intersecting at the center. A red dot is placed at the center of the circle. The right diagram shows a circle with a star-like pattern of intersecting lines. The lines form a central square and eight triangles radiating from the center, creating a complex geometric design.

Red symbols indicate internal characteristics.
Green symbols indicate external characteristics.
